

Colton Benjamin

Colton Benjamin – singer, songwriter, artist, cultural crooner – was born in the city of Lisbon, Portugal, and started to engage with the music world at the tender age of 15. Influenced by the music scenes of London and Stockholm where he studied, he is now based back in Lisbon, where he shares projects in music and in his cultural entrepreneurship.

The soulful vibe you feel from him, brings all his influences in a subliminal way. Energetic groove with pieces of soul, jazz and funk, influenced by the 70's afro American music, mashed with all the European influences through the eyes of an African descendent.

Vocals and rhythms will take you through an eclectic journey where the musicians that share the stage with him, always manage to turn the heat a bit higher.

Colton's acclaimed album "Pirate Route" marked his debut as a solo artist in the year of 2017. After the tours in Portugal, with a few other stops around Europe, garnered him good reviews from the media. Now preparing his second recording album, the live performances are already presented with some of the songs that will be released on the 2020 new album.

Colton began singing at the tender age of 15 in the hip hop soul group Legião Vermelha. A few years later, he became the frontman of the Bambs Cooper band, that allowed him to work with some of his national influences. After years playing a support singing role for well known Portuguese artists in different styles, such as Fado legend Jorge Fernando, the showman Virgul, Nuno Guerreiro or the great Dino Santiago, Colton found his place in the Portuguese soul scene.
